

Eventful Day For Fulton

Town Makes Ready For Truman And Churchill, Thousands Of Other Guests

By LARRY HALL
FULTON, Mo., March 2—(P)—The delicate flavor of Missouri country ham and the problems of a troubled world will be on the same menu when Winston Churchill comes to this little interior American town next Tuesday.

The former British Prime Minister and President Truman will be the luncheon guests of Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of Westminster College, before they stroll across the campus to the gymnasium where Churchill will speak on world affairs.

Six Sedalia police officers will go to Fulton early Tuesday morning and assist in police and traffic duties there during the visit of President Harry Truman and former Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Chief of Police Anson Finnell ordered the following officers to Fulton: Sergeant George Maness, Sergeant Cecil Smith, Patrolmen George H. Riley, Lester Estes, William Hatfield and Lon Maness.

Country ham, cured by one of the farm experts who have made it a dish for picnics, will be the main luncheon dish.

In the evening Dr. McCluer said he would serve the Prime Minister's favorite roast beef at a buffet supper.

A seven rib, 27 pound roast of top quality beef has been obtained.

All Are Shopping

As Dr. McCluer puts the final touches on arrangements for entertaining the most distinguished guests ever to visit little Westminster College, townspeople hurried to grocery stores and butcher shops today to buy "everything we will sell them," one merchant reported.

Customers expressed fear their larders would be depleted before "C-T Day" is over. Many said they would have friends or relatives as well as guests and others were opening their homes to strangers for the expected influx of visitors.

Truman L. Ingle chairman of the city's arrangements committee and superintendent State School for the Deaf here, estimated the town could care for 30,000 to 40,000 but "nobody knows how many there will be."

State Guardsmen Home

He said 500 state guardsmen from the Fourth Regiment of Central Missouri would be on hand to help state highway patrolmen and police officers borrowed from other towns to handle the throng.

Five first aid stations, with ambulances, are being set up. The last of the flags and bunting will be in place this week end and special sandwich stands are being spotted around the town, which normally has a population of about 8,200.

At the college workmen have converted a bare gymnasium into an auditorium for 2,800 with the help of bleachers borrowed from the University of Missouri to seat 1,700. About 900 more will be seated in Swope Chapel across the street.

Public Address Systems

Throughout the town four churches and the auditorium at William Woods College for girls have been equipped with public address systems to catch the Prime Minister's words and a bottle type loud speaker has been affixed to

Reds Will Not Leave Dairen

DAIREN, Manchuria, Feb. 26

—(Delayed)—(P)—Manchuria's port city of Dairen, occupied by Red army troops, is considered by the Soviets their own personal property for the moment. From all indications, they are in a forceful condition to stay.

Full dress Red army maneuvers are being held over extensive areas of the rolling country to the north of Dairen.

Dairen civilians feel strongly that, while the Reds may leave other parts of Manchuria in return for certain economic concessions they will not evacuate Dairen at any price.

The Russians have built tremendous military strength in Dairen 30 miles from the big naval base at Port Arthur and clearly are seen to be taking a strong hold there.

Official Soviet secret police are keeping foreigners under a close surveillance.

Greenwich, Conn. Citizens Vote Against Having UNO Capital

GREENWICH, Conn., March 2—(P)—Greenwich citizens, voting a special town referendum today, opposed the establishment of the United Nations organization capital here by a 4,540 to 2,019 margin.

The tally was announced by Moderator Frederick H. Allen. He said the total number of persons who showed up to vote was 8,139, but that 560 citizens became confused and left the booths without expressing their voice.

Willkie Bushby, New York lawyer and chairman of the Greenwich people's committee, issued this statement immediately after the tally was completed:

"The people of Greenwich have clearly and unmistakably registered their belief that the UNO should not destroy one community

Train And Milk Truck Collide, Four Are Dead

Two Youths In Back Of Truck Jump To Safety

BATESVILLE, Ark., March 2—A collision of the Southern Seaboard north-bound Missouri Pacific passenger train, and a milk truck at a crossing near here today resulted in the death of four Independence county, Ark., residents.

The train was en route from Memphis to Kansas City. The victims, all of whom were riding in the milk truck, were: Mrs. Kelly Douglas of near Newark.

Mrs. R. D. James of near Sulphur Rock. Charley Patterson, Batesville, driver of the truck.

Floyd Collins of Batesville.

Bodies of all the victims were mangled.

Two youths who were riding in the rear of the truck, Tommy Callis, 18, of Batesville and Cecil Magouyrk, 15, of Sulphur Rock, escaped injury by leaping from the vehicle just before the collision.

No one on the train was injured, although the engine was derailed and damaged slightly.

Called Warning

Callis said he saw the train approaching and yelled to Patterson:

"For God's sake stop the truck! There comes a train!"

He added that Patterson, apparently unable to hear his cries, kept going.

The youth said he and Magouyrk kept shouting but that they remained unheard and jumped from the truck.

The truck was dragged about 300 yards before the train was brought to a stop.

Workmen were attempting to put the engine back onto the track and service over the line was expected to be resumed early tonight.

Former Air Corps Flight Officer Killed

ST. CHARLES, Mo., March 2—(P)—Harlan Richardson, 26-year-old former air corps flight officer and glider pilot, was killed today in the crash of a private trainer plane.

The plane, which Meyer bought a few days ago, struck a tree just before it crashed.

Thieves Busy Friday Night, Saturday A. M.

Enter Filling Station And Jockey Club

The thief or thieves who have been giving the Sedalia police a first class "headache" the past week, made a successful escape from police officer Thomas Lingle at the Phillips 66 filling station, Broadway and Crescent drive, late Friday night. He returned later, made entrance, and finished his job, early Saturday morning.

The thief was standing by a window on the south side of the filling station when Officer Lingle was driving east on Broadway and started to turn into the station to make a check. The man, who had a flashlight, dashed back of the station and before Lingle could get out of the car and around the station he disappeared into the darkness.

A radio call was made for the second patrol car and the officers searched the entire neighborhood to endeavoring to locate the thief, or a car he might have had, but they were unsuccessful. The station had not been entered. This was at 10:52 o'clock Friday night.

Entered Through Window

It was 2:06 o'clock Saturday morning, on a regular check of the east Sedalia business places, that Officer Lingle accompanied by Officer Clarence Flewelly, found the station had been entered. A check revealed the thief gained entrance through a window and then ransacked the station.

Early Saturday morning W. S. Courts, new manager of the station, reported to the police that 100 pennies had been taken, four cartons of cigarettes, four or five quarts of motor oil, one and a half boxes of candy, and a flash light out of the station. One gasoline pump had been broken open and 30 gallons of gasoline stolen.

At 6:45 o'clock Saturday morning, Officers John Neitzert and Chris Rau, in making an early morning check found the pumps of the Hudson filling station on east Broadway tampered with. Nothing apparently was taken.

Sometime after 4 o'clock Friday morning, the Jockey Club on highway 65 was broken into by a thief who pried open an east window. Thieves found $11 in pennies, $1 in nickels, $1 in dimes and about $1 in quarters, which they took.

The robbery was discovered by Jack Morris.

Over $2,000 In Eckles Fund

The Machinist Local No. 71, Missouri Pacific shop employees, contributed $136.00 to the Cpl. William Eckles Fund last week.

Cpl. Eckles underwent an operation Tuesday at the O'Reilly hospital at Springfield to repair the muscle, nerves and blood vessels in his hand. Due to the fact that these muscles have been in active since his injury in April he has been in great pain this past week.

His wife, the former Loretta Walston, returned home Friday.

Contributions are still coming in generously. While publicity won't be as extensive reports will continue to be given from Bill's bedside as the War Mothers' committee receive them. The amount of the fund will be made public from time to time.

Considerably more than $2,000 has already been received.

Every class in the First Christian church except one has donated to the fund. That class, however, plans to contribute but has not done so because of the illness of its leader.

32 Proposals To Amend New Constitution

175 Statutes Must Be Enacted By July First

By George Sitterley
JEFFERSON CITY, March 2—(P)—Within 12 months after Missouri voters adopted the 1945 constitution, the state legislature has suggested 32 ways to amend the new code.

Actually, 27 were introduced in that period—the other five were offered even before the constitutional election Feb. 27, 1945.

Benefits for war veterans account for five of the amendment proposals, retirement benefits or pensions for Missouri's old people are covered in four others and boosting legislative pay was suggested in three.

One representative offered two proposals for a unicameral legislature in Missouri and two others would provide for a three-cent gasoline tax with the one-cent increased earmarked for special road construction and maintenance.

Thorn In The Side

The most recent amendment suggested would eliminate a constitutional requirement that the state's 114 counties be grouped into four classes. That requirement has been a thorn in the side of the 63rd general assembly, but last fall the lawmakers finally got a classification bill enacted, grouping on the counties on the basis of assessed valuation.

A legislative research committee spokesman said last week that some 175 statutes must be enacted by July 1 under provisions of the classification law. Should the amending proposal pass both houses and then be approved by the voters in next November's general election, all those statutes would become obsolete and require revision by the next legislature.

Cannot Conform

The resolution was approved by a house committee a week after it was introduced by representatives from Jackson and St. Louis counties, who contend their local governments cannot operate under laws applicable to both the counties assigned to class one.

St. Louis county contains only small cities, they declare, whereas Jackson county's population is mostly concentrated in Kansas City. That means the same laws must apply to a rural and a metropolitan county, they complain.

Bonuses For Veterans

Of the five resolutions proposing benefits for war veterans, three would offer bonuses to Missourians who saw active war service and two others would provide tax exemption benefits. Three of them died in committee. The other two have not been reported out of the committees to which they were referred.

One of the latter, carrying the names of 76 house members who approved it, would allow honorably discharged veterans up to $2,000 exemption on their real and personal property assessments.

The other, introduced last month, would pay each veteran $10 a month for each month of active service during the war—up to a total of $400—or would turn the money over to his next of kin.

Cost of the bonuses would be met by doubling the present two percent sales tax. The amendment proposal is under consideration by a house committee.

House Hunting For Housing Chairman Began At Home

CANEY, Kas., March 2—(P)—The chairman of a Lions Club housing committee, Ray Redding, returned wearily home after an all-day search for an apartment for an engineer who had come to town to work on a dam.

He had finally found one or two prospects and he recounted details of his quest to his wife who listened quietly and then said:

"All right, now put on your hat and find us a house. While you were gone I received order to vacate. This house has been sold."

Pensioners Will Continue To Increase

Facts Stated By Director Of Social Security Commission

JEFFERSON CITY, March 2—(P)—The number of old age pensioners will continue to increase in Missouri even if the general assembly doesn't liberalize pension grants, Proctor M. Carter, director of the State Social Security Commission, predicted today.

Carter told a senate committee recently there were 350,000 persons in Missouri over 65 years of age, and although grants are made on a basis of need, it seemed inevitable that with from 31,000 to 32,000 persons reaching eligible age each year the rolls would surge upward because of unstable economic conditions.

He explained he was merely presenting the facts, and had no opinion one way or another.

"My job is to administer old age assistance, aid to dependent children and direct relief to unemployed," Carter said, "and I'm not urging the rolls either be cut or lengthened."

Number Declined

During the war years—from December, 1941, to August, 1945—the number of old age pensioners declined, Carter said, but since last August 2,368 persons have been added.

As of February, 1946, there were 102,465 oldsters receiving aid, and Carter said they represented a little more than 30 percent of the population over 65.

"There are three factors which limit old age assistance rolls," he said. "They are relative responsibility provisions—laws requiring children to care for their parents, county participation with the state and federal government in payment of pensions and liens against the property of old age pensioners."

Must Be In Need

"Missouri has none of these provisions, although our law does require that a person must be in need before a pension can be granted. Under that provision the Social Security Commission sees to it that pensions are not paid old people who are being supported by children."

If a child gives partial support to his parent, Carter explained, the state contributes enough money to make up the deficiency in terms of minimum living standards.

Currently, the average payment per old age pensioner is $26.84 a month in Missouri. Because of the increased number on the rolls, Carter is seeking an additional appropriation of $2,050,000 to maintain the level of payments until the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Man Held In Slaying Case

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 2—(P)—A 29-year-old Paris, Tex., man is in custody here tonight in connection with the slaying last Thanksgiving Day of his sister and brother-in-law, whose bodies were found in shallow graves in a desert near the California-Arizona state line.

Commissioner of Public Safety Weldon Rasberry said the man was Emmett Edwin Patterson, arrested here a week ago following an altercation at a Hot Springs Cafe, and sentenced today to 90 days in jail on a charge of assault and battery. He was booked at the time as Tommy Martin.

Patterson is accused of killing his sister, Mrs. Alliance Cole and her husband, W. M. Cole, near Needles, Calif., Rasberry said.

The man admitted he was Patterson when shown a California police circular bearing his picture, the commissioner added.

Hundred Million For European Relief

LONDON, March 2—(P)—The sale of surplus U. S. war equipment to UNRRA for European relief work has passed the $100,000,000 mark, a joint announcement by the foreign liquidation commission and UNRRA disclosed today.

Lewis Moves For Higher Mine Wages; Threatens Strike

Strike Briefs

ST. LOUIS, March 2—(P)—With a deadline for returning strike ballots less than 48 hours away, representatives of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and Southwestern Telephone Workers' union held another unsuccessful conciliation conference today.

Another meeting is scheduled for Sunday afternoon. A union spokesman said no progress had been made.

DETROIT, March 2—(P)—The CIO United Auto Workers proposed to General Motors today that their labor dispute be submitted to an arbitrator to be named by President Truman.

If the corporation accepts arbitration, union leaders said they would recommend a return to work under the terms of the company's latest proposals pending a report by the arbitrators.

General Motors officials indicated there would be no reply to the union's proposal until after tonight.

In a letter to President C. E. Wilson of General Motors, the union's top leadership said:

"The arbitrator's decision shall be made as soon as possible but not later than 45 days from the day he is designated by the President. His decision shall be final and binding upon both parties."

"Upon the corporation's acceptance of this proposal the union will recommend to its membership a return to work under the terms embodied in the corporation's latest proposals, pending the receipt of the arbitrator's award."

WASHINGTON, March 2—(P)—The nation's four principal rubber manufacturers and the CIO Rubber Workers Union agreed today on an 18 cents hourly wage increase covering some 100,000 workers.

Twelve cents of the wage increase will be retroactive to Nov. 1, 1945, the union and company spokesmen announced.

The agreement ended 11 days of the first industry-wide negotiations.

Agreement also was reached on payment of double time for Sundays and holidays.

WICHITA, Kas., March 2—(P)—Representatives of 40 union locals voted unanimously today to sponsor a mass meeting in support of the Wichita police union, and named a committee to ask city commissioners to reinstate the seven union officials dismissed for union activity Feb. 1.

National Head Of War Dads Coming

Arch Stafford, of Omaha, Neb., national president of the American War Dads, will be a guest of the Sedalia War Dad unit, on Monday, March 11, and will probably address a large open meeting that night.

Announcement of his intention to visit Sedalia was sent to Harry E. Lindstrom, president of the Sedalia War Dads chapter, but in his absence was turned over to Judge J. V. Kesterson, who will meet with other groups next week to work out the day's program.

Negotiations Will Probably Be Long Drawn Out And Bitterly Fought Battle

By WILLIAM NEEDHAM
WASHINGTON, March 2—(P)—John L. Lewis called on the coal industry today to open wage negotiations covering some 400,000 soft-coal miners—and simultaneously served notice he is ready to call a nation-wide coal strike April 1 to enforce his demands.

The United Mine Workers leader, in typical fashion, fired a double-barreled blast to open what may well be one of the most bitter and hard-fought labor-management battles in the industry's history.

Under the same March 2 date, Lewis sent letters to bituminous operators and to the government, one inviting the industry to open wage talks here on March 12, the other advising the government that a "dispute" exist and that he will wait 30 days before striking.

Coal operators, who had expected Lewis' invitation, are bound by the union's contract to participate in the wage conference.

At the same time, industry spokesmen made it clear that, depending on the extent of the UMW wage increase proposals, the negotiations probably will be a drawn-out, sternly-contested affair. These operator representatives, who asked not to be named, said any major pay increase will mean a coal price increase, and contended that coal prices already are too high to leave the industry in a satisfactory position for competition with oil and gas fuels.

In his letter to Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, chairman of the operators negotiating committee of the national bituminous coal wage conference, Lewis declared "new arrangements" are necessary covering "wages, hours, rules, practices, differentials, inequalities," and "other pertinent matters" affecting the industry.

Soft coal miners currently receive a basic wage of $1 an hour for a 35-hour week. With overtime, underground travel allowances, and other additional payments, they can receive a maximum of $63.50 weekly, although the UMW contends the average weekly pay has ranged around $52.

In his 30-day strike notice, filed with Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, the National Labor Relations Board, and the National Wage Stabilization Board, Lewis interjected an issue almost as controversial as the wage question.

This covers the right of mine foremen and other supervisory employees to be members of the union and be covered by contract. Coal operators invariably have contested that demand bitterly and are certain to make a showdown fight in the new negotiations.

An Issue And Dispute

At the same time, Lewis told the government agencies that "an arbitrary and unilateral interpretation of the contract by the operators" has placed "at issue and in dispute" five controversial points "pertaining to hours, rates, and conditions of employment of various classifications of employees."

The administration's new wage-price policy, he continued, has brought about a "significant change" in the government's wage policy, a development which, under terms of the contract, permits reopening of the wage question.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

In A Sense, Abroad—
Business trips to big cities may be drab, routine affairs insofar as the side issues of such journeys are concerned.

Observations of most travelers indicate a strained effort to make the time pass as quickly as possible, especially on trains. Many indulge in fitful naps, others read pocket magazines, newspapers, etc. Conversations between two or among more are rather subdued. Sometimes voices are pitched high enough for the lonely scenery watcher to overhear and follow the subject trend.

For instance one cannot help but listen to a slender girl across the aisle talking to a companion on the subject of perpetual inventories, unit controls, and her personal desire to obtain an engineer's degree. Yet the real meat in her parlor car lecture was that "self educational processes should not stop with maturity, middle age or old age. Even the homemaker should never conclude she had learned all about cooking or home-making." There was a bit of puzzlement in her reference to "even the home-maker". . . .

Came an interruption as an attractive, ebullient college girl pranced in from the dining car. As she joined companions farther down the aisle she was breathless. "I was never in such a mess in my life," she exclaimed volubly. "We waited and waited to get a table. The dining car was packed with soldiers and finally a whole team of Negro basketball players came in and one of them plopped right down across the table from me."

The young woman may have resented this experience, but one thing sure, she must have permitted appetite to overrule emotions, because she certainly had eaten her dinner. Later her dinner companions came through the car, and they were all fine-looking colored boys and a lot better behaved than some white men who had patronized the bar too frequently.

In St. Louis, between trains, there was opportunity to dine at a restaurant. After the meal had been delivered there was one item missing—butter. Called upon to explain, the waitress remarked:

"I'm sorry, sir. We have had no butter for our customers for three meals. It is a shame and I think it is a racket or plain ignorance in the way we run things. We're trying to teach those people over yonder how to live—I think we'd better start teaching ourselves!"

Loitering before the long row of train gates and mingling with the shuffling mass of humanity bent on travel, I stopped beside a returned Okinawa veteran to observe a group of rookie troops—youngsters of 18 and 19 whom a juvenile corporal was trying to put in formation before entraining to some camp. I have never seen a more bedraggled outfit since my first day in Camp Robinson in 1918. The Okinawa veteran was a bit disgusted and when the rookies marched by he shouted at them: "How long have you fellows been in?" To which one of the slouchers remarked smilingly: "Two weeks, but we are sure of coming back and that's more than you could have said when you first took off."

A Union Station employee was watching the crowds line up and push and shove each other through a gate in an effort to get to their train. He remarked about the impatience of travelers, and the many soldiers still on the move. Somehow he became wound up then and went on to tell how he had fought in World War I and was gassed, but never put in for compensation when he was discharged. Something was wrong about his medical discharge and he had had years of trouble clearing it up. Said he: "Veterans of World War II should be warned about their medical discharges. If they have anything wrong with them when they are about to be discharged they should see to it that their papers reveal this fact, then they won't have to wait 20 years, like I did, trying to get compensation to which they are entitled."

In a city of 3½ million people it is not often you stumble into an experience like this: After attending a Chicago theatre I stood in line with 200 other men edging toward the check room to obtain coat and hat. A young man next to me remarked that if he had known better he would not have checked his wraps before going to the show. "Where are you from?" he asked. "Missouri," I replied. "What part of Missouri?" "Sedalia." "I know some people there. Do you know George Trader and his wife Joyce?" I informed him I did and that young George's uncle was president of the same newspaper on which I worked. The young man said his name was Robinson and that he had met young George and his wife while in army service down in Texas.

A stranger can be as companionable a dinner partner as a friend. One evening I had determined to dine and listen to Ted Weems and his orchestra at the Stevens hotel. My friends preferred to see some morbid show: "Dark Is The Moon." So we parted. Alone I stopped in a Stevens cocktail room to await the hour of the Weems entertainment. A six-foot civilian came in and sat beside me. He seemed to have the lonesome blues so I started a conversation which soon caused my companion to open up. He had been a South Carolina infantry officer attached to the army of General Patton in its spectacular drive across France. Commenting on that famous personage he praised him highly, but still was troubled about Patton's methods. "Patton," he said, "would by-pass the towns with his tanks and then call upon us infantry fellows to come up and clear out the Germans from those towns so his rear would be protected. It was a brutal business for the Germans and for us, too. We sure took a lot of punishment."

And it seems he spoke the truth because this six-foot splendid specimen of manhood from every outside appearance was a nerve case if there ever was one. He was shot to pieces, had been out of the army two months and hadn't yet had the courage to return home to his wife. Asked why, he said he was just not up to it. He was all out of adjustment and wanted to get straightened out before going home. He had some kind of a fear complex, and in that great big dining room with the swell music of Ted Weems and an entertaining floor show the complex showed up on him. His dinner unfinished, he pleasantly excused himself and walked away, his whole frame shaking like a beaten man. I never saw him again.

For the balance of the evening I thought I would be alone, but was permitted another treat. A party of eight people came in and sat at the next table. Nearest me were two women whose husbands probably shelled out five or six dollars each to give their mates a musical and floor show treat. But all those two women did during the entertainment was carry on like a couple of chatter boxes seldom glancing at the entertainers, and almost too busy with gossip to eat their dinner. When they departed one of them exclaimed: "Oh, wasn't it grand!" How can any male figure out a woman.

Went to see "Blossom Time" at another theatre. About the time I became emotionally adjusted to the wonderful music and

The Daily Washington

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, March 2—Two of the bitterest opponents on the House floor and in the Interstate Commerce committee are representatives Clarence Brown, conservative Republican of Lancaster, Ohio, and Vito Marcantonio, American Laborite of New York City. Off the floor, however, the two respect each other's ability and get along well.

Sitting in the House lobby the other day they smilingly concluded an agreement which will probably never be carried out.

They were talking about campaign expenses, when Brown proposed: "Vito, I've got a suggestion. Why don't we both cut our campaign expenses to the bone? Here's how to do it:

"You go into my district and make three speeches against me. Call me a reactionary Hooverite, an isolationist, an economic royalist—and anything else you can think of. That'll elect me.

"Then I'll go into your district and make three speeches. I'll call you a Red, a Dago, a New Dealer and an anti-Rankinite."

"With the proper literature about you in my district and the proper literature about me in your district, both of us are a cinch for reelection when we do that."

Marcantonio agreed that the idea had merit, and they shook hands on it.

Nazis Flourish In Germany
A secret report on failure to de-Nazify Germany has been made to the War Department, but is considered so shocking that it probably will be destroyed. It is now in the office of Brig. Gen. Frank A. Meade.

The report shows complete failure to clean out high-ranking Nazis. It also shows a surprising number of so-called German "laborers" who have secretaries and stenographers assigned to them.

This is one of the latest dodges to get around the employment of Nazis by the American army. According to army rules, no former Nazi can be employed in any job more important than that of a "laborer." Result is that many Nazis are used in important jobs, but listed on the books as "laborers." That is why they are assigned secretaries and stenographers.

These "common laborers" are songs and really relaxing and enjoying myself, remembering how I used to play those songs over and over again on mother's Victrola about 30 years ago, a man in a seat next to me mumbled, "Hell, I've heard better singing than that." Always there has to be a kill-joy.

At one train stop an aristocratic-looking elderly couple entered the car and sat down. In the rear two men were in animated discussion about divers topics. One man persistently used the word, damn. Scarcely a sentence escaped his lips that did not carry the word. One could tell the dignified, certainly well-bred woman was annoyed and I heard her whisper to her husband she wished "that man would quit swearing so loud."

But all the while this woman kept complaining about her bronchial cough. She coughed and she hacked and never once shielded her mouth with her hand or a handkerchief. Pretty well established these days is the fact that germs are spread by coughs, and I was none to comfortable under the intermittent spraying.

How a well-bred person can resent someone's swearing while she herself coughed so carelessly, is one of those examples of life's inconsistencies.

As between sitting under the cough of a well-bred woman, and within ear shot of an ill-bred man's damn, I'll take the damn every time.

I GOT ready for bed and then decided that some warm milk would help me sleep. On my way back, I noticed a light still burning in the library and went in to put it out. But Fletch was there on the divan, a drink in his hand, his long legs stretched out in front of him.

"Having a nightcap, Nana?" he asked. "Come in and have it with me."

I sat down beside him. "Don't you think you should go to bed? Tomorrow won't be so much easier than today."

He hunched forward, rotating the glass between his hands. Finally he said, "I think it will be for me, Nana. Thanks to Dad. I've made a hell of a lot of mistakes, but you can make mistakes and still be a right guy, can't you?"

"If you're thinking of your father . . . I said."

"I am. I'm thinking of him, and I'm thinking of myself and of my boys and the years to come. We're off to a bad start, but if I can give them what my father has given me, then I'll command their love and respect."

Trouble Clouds Horizon Six Months After War II's End

UNITED NATIONS Held first meeting of General Assembly in London. Vote U. S. site for permanent headquarters. Agree on international control of atom bomb. Prepare European peace treaties for Paris conference of 21 Allied nations. Bitter British-Russian duel over Iran and Greece.	U. S. Dissension is rife—over demobilization's speed, over our foreign policy, between management and labor, sparking history's largest and costliest strikes. These stymie needed production. Housing shortage rises to crisis; price control battle rages while inflation grows; the Pearl Harbor probe drags on, gets nowhere. U. S. prepares historic atom-bomb test.	GERMANY Jointly held by U. S., Russia, Britain, France. Try top war criminals. Seize war potential industries, seize plants or take them for reparations. Black market prevails. Acute shortages of food, fuel, clothes. Hold first post-war election. Displaced persons become a critical problem. Observers say few Germans feel any war guilt.	RUSSIA Tackles job restoring areas wrecked by war, placing disgruntled veterans, rehabilitating industry in ages-old drive for security, forms bloc "friendly" states on borders, seeks all-union support. Stalin discloses 25-year plan expand industrial and productive strength to match U. S. in its heavy industry war potential.
JAPAN Stripped of territorial conquests Japan undergoes tremendous social revolution under MacArthur's rule. He removes bars from freedom of speech, assembly and worship, with Shintoism banned as state religion. Emperor admits his divinity is myth. Big industrial combines broken up. War criminals arrested and tried. Four-power Control Council, including Russia, established.	CHINA For five months after Japan's end, Chinese fought on—against Chinese. Gen. Marshall helps end 18-year civil war between Chinese Reds and Nationalists. Changing drafts a new "Unity" constitution. Nation grows under shortages and fantastic inflation.	FAR EAST Vigorous native independence drives flame through prewar colonial areas from India-China to Dutch East Indies, where British battle rebels. Dutch are forced make concessions, re-offer dominion status.	LATIN AMERICA Unrest follows war's end. Venezuela regime overthrown. Argentine flames with violence. Revolution in Haiti. Nicaraguans oust dictator. Leftists sweep Peru.
BRITAIN Continues wartime "austerity" regimen, even reducing food ration amounts. With Churchill out, Attlee in, Britain's first socialistic government is committed to nationalize coal mines, other utilities. Faced with rebuilding wrecked industry, homes and foreign trade, seeks $3,750,000,000 loan from U. S. Copes with colonial unrest.	BALKANS As ever, a trouble spot. Civil war flares in Greece after liberation. Britain steps in, USSR objects. U. S. refuses recognize Bulgarian regime until elections are held. Yugoslavs vote republic under Tito, dethrone King Peter II. Russia maneuvers to keep Balkans in its "sphere."	MIDDLE EAST Oil-rich Iran worries over revolt in northern provinces, calls it USSR-inspired, appeals to United Nations. Violence almost constant in Palestine as Zionists seek free immigration of Jews, Arabs oppose it. Turkey talks tough under Russian territorial demands. Egyptian nationalists not for full freedom from British influence. Arab League gains power.	INDIA Threatened famine, political and racial strife, plus widespread unemployment plus India's most intensive drive for independence all spell trouble. Britain sends mission, including Sir Stafford Cripps, to discuss India's future status.

Ushering a long-warring world into a long-hoped-for era of perpetual peace is an arduous, painful task. then put in charge of important manufacturing plants. The report now in the hands of the War Department was made by the Public Safety and Inspection Division of Military Government. It may never see the light of day.

The hatchet was only partly buried at the big "peace" meeting between Gen. Omar Bradley, Veterans Administration boss, and John Stelle, militant chief of the American Legion.

Both men shook hands cordially at the start and finish of their two-and-a-half-hour conference, but their basic differences over the handling of veterans' affairs weren't altered appreciably. Some predict that the tossing of page-one ashcans at each other will continue.

However, Bradley yielded some ground on two issues. He admitted that there had been a serious bottleneck in processing service records which held up compensation for disabled veterans. This he said was due to delays in transferring records to a central demobilization office in St. Louis.

He also declared that he had been hasty in charging that Stelle's blast at the Veterans Administration was prompted by the Legion head's failure to get V. A. approval of a veterans' hospital project in his home state, at Decatur, Ill.

"I have since changed my mind about that," Bradley told Stelle. The Legion chief reminded the veterans administrator that their long distance telephone quarrel, which touched off the name-calling contest, had revolved around Bradley's refusal to sit on a Legion advisory committee for the education of war orphans. Bradley had said he was turning down the offer because he "didn't want to feel obligated" to any veterans' organization.

General Bradley Stiffens
"We're all trying to work for the best interest of the veterans," the V. A. administrator told Stelle at their meeting began. "So the best way is for us to work together and cooperate all we can. I don't want to continue this fight."

"That's the way we feel about it also, general," replied Stelle. "We are coming here in the spirit of cooperation, but it is aggressive cooperation. If we find the Veterans Administration delinquent in its obligations to the men who fought this war, we won't pull any punches and we don't care where the chips fall or whom they hurt."

Bradley stiffened at this shot, finally remarked:

"We are doing the best job we can under difficult circumstances. If you don't like the way we do things, you are always free to say so. I came over here as a soldier to serve to the best of my ability."

Stelle replied that he appreciated this, but that all he was interested in was results, and so far, he said, the veterans administration had been very short on results, judging by reports of Legion field investigators and the numerous G.I. complaints pouring in on Congress.

The Legion boss, who was gassed in World War I, added that he understood Bradley's soldierly attitude on service, since he himself had two sons who served with the general overseas, one of whom was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the other a Purple Heart.

Red Tape Uncut
A major item in Stelle's bill of complaints against the Veterans Administration, besides lack of adequate hospital care for returning GIs, is the V. A.'s failure to cut red tape for veterans who did not file disability claims when they were separated. These vets have to wait as long as six months before the V. A. examiners get around to giving them a disability rating entitling them to compensation.

"There are between 40,000 and 50,000 men in this category," Stelle told Bradley, "all of whom have their disabilities plainly noted on their discharge papers, but who have to wait many months for compensation. It seems to me your local examiners could give these boys a temporary rating for their service-connected disabilities until their cases are permanently straightened out."

Bradley promised to "consider" this. However, he refused to yield on his program of taking over surplus army hospitals unless he could get medical staffs to run them. Because of the shortage of doctors, this has been difficult.

NOTE: Bradley also refused to accede to Stelle's request that their meeting be thrown open to the press, insisting that it be held behind closed doors. However, the V. A. set up recording equipment to reproduce a verbatim account of what went on.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Both fire departments were called out at 9:30 last night to the feed store conducted by Fred Lange, on West Main street, where a quantity of hay and other feed was discovered to be on fire. Only the quick work of the firemen prevented what might have resulted in a serious conflagration, owing to poor water pressure and the amount of hay and other inflammable material stored in the building.

Owing to a break in a valve at the pumping station of the water company, and the failure to have adequate supply in the standpipes, the city water was cut off Friday night, necessitating the shutting down of the steam heat plant and the street cars. When Sedalians awoke yesterday morning and found both water and steam heat cut off, they were indignant, and they grew more so as the hours rolled by. During the forenoon a delegation of 100 of the business and professional men called at the water company inquiring why there was no provision for an emergency and in the afternoon a mass meeting was held. A resolution proposing that the city authorities bring a suit to forfeit the franchise of the water company was adopted.

Jake Bauer, the successful and popular ball player, has left for Hot Springs, where the club he is to play with the present season will go into active practice. From there he will go to Sioux City, with which team he is engaged to play at a salary of $200 per month.

G. L. Bennett, of Green Ridge; T. R. Luckett of Dresden; R. K. Thomson, of Beaman, and J. M. James of Cedar, were in the city yesterday to attend a meeting of the county Democratic committee.

Pope Pius XII Is 70

EDITOR'S NOTE:—The Rev. John LaFarge, S. J., is editor in chief of the national Catholic weekly, "America." He has written a number of books, including "The Jesuits in Modern Times" and "The Race Question and the Negro." He is active in many Catholic organizations, is former vice president of the American Catholic Historical Association and a director of the International Peace. During a tour of Europe in 1938, just before the war broke out, Father LaFarge had an audience with Pope Pius XI. He is familiar with Papal policy, present and historic.

By REV. JOHN LAFARGE, S. J.
(Written for NEA Service)
NEW YORK, March 2 (NEA)—When on his seventieth birthday today, the name of Pope Pius XII is mentioned, people will doubtless think of an erect, white-robed figure, seated peacefully in the Vatican's Hall of Consistory and greeting the latest wearers of a Cardinal's purple robes.

But in my own mind's eye the name of Pius arouses three visions in particular.
I see in 1936 a handful of missionary nuns, Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament for Negroes and In-spring evening at the World Eucharistic Congress in 1938, the same Cardinal Pacelli kneels in silent adoration before the sacramental Saviour, Host and adorer both enclosed in a brilliantly lighted glass chamber upon the upper deck of a steamer, while behind the physical clouds lurks the terror, in near-by Germany, of Hitler's warfare on Christianity. Moving swiftly over the dark waters of the troubled Danube the Legate prays that God's hand may yet intervene in the Reich which he came to know so well during his six years as Papal Nuncio at Munich before he became Papal Secretary of State.

Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli is seated on the throne in Vatican City during impressive coronation ceremonies which elevated him to renown as Pope Pius XII.

Finally, I see him as Pope, standing amid a terrified crowd upon the cobblestones of the Roman Trastevere, just after the bombing of Rome in the recent war. His face is raised and his arms stretched up to Heaven, as he passionately thanks God that even worse did not come, as he implores Divine protection for Romans and for all people during the terrible days yet to come.

Justice and Charity
But whether he is seated, or kneels, or stands erect; whether he strolls easily and joyously among the thousands of GI's unceremoniously thronging the ceremonial halls of the Vatican, this churchman is inspired by one incessant and never-relaxing aim. With a mind fixed upon human unity, as the key problem of the present time, he will leave no stone unturned, no instrument, human or divine, untried, which can possibly help to organize the natural society of mankind upon the basis of justice and charity, and thereby prevent war.

As a means to that end, he demands the restoration of the "complete man," complete as a religious believer and as a citizen, with a citizen's sense of responsibility in a democracy. Pius XII, on Christmas, 1944, proclaimed democracy as the only type of government suited to our times, the only type which will successfully oppose totalitarian tyranny.

The 70 years of Pope Pius' life have moved with a remarkable logic toward the unique position where he now finds himself in the field of religious and moral leadership. Born of a family of aristocratic jurists in Rome, on March 2, 1876, Eugenio Pacelli trained himself for the doctorate in theology, philosophy and law at Capranica College in Rome, where in 1899 he was ordained a priest. From that time on, his career was a steady procession in the field of ecclesiastical jurisprudence and the diplomatic service of the Catholic Church, in its constant efforts to safeguard the interests of religion through contacts and contracts with governments of all kinds, friendly and hostile. As Papal Secretary of State under his predecessor, Pope Pius XI, Cardinal Pacelli became, as is popularly said, the "best informed man in the world."

Today, he says, the Church "cannot cut herself off, inert in the privacy of her churches," and thus neglect the work God wants her to do for the good of society. Laymen, says Pius, are not only IN the Church, but they ARE the Church, and need to learn and practice their immense responsibilities.

Urges Equality
On the firm basis of his conservative Roman origin and training, Pius XII has boldly broken with many a hoary precedent. He calls for the cooperation of all men of good will to save the pillars of society, the family and the state, in the chaos of the present crisis. He never ceases to urge and practice racial equality, and is determined to vindicate the supra-national character of the Church. Finally, he is deeply convinced of the part God has allotted to the United States in the salvation and rehabilitation of the world. If the men of good will, to whom he so movingly appeals, will listen to the sober, practical advice of this great leader, we have same hope of being spared the horrors of another war. If we boldly reject his well-tried, Gospel-drawn counsel, no way appears possible by which the world can be preserved from a self-inflicted destruction.

dians, emerge from their battered automobile in the heart of the Arizona desert, and kneel in surprised reverence before the Papal Legate, Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, as his plane stops for fueling in the course of the first visit any future Pope ever made to the United States.

Then, in the chill of a cloudy

Exhibits And Equipment At Poultry Show

Program Was Successful From All Standpoints

The second annual Pettis County Poultry Improvement program, which was held at the Armory Friday, was very successful from the standpoint of program, exhibits and attendance, according to J. U. Morris, county extension agent.

The quality egg exhibit and the quality poultry exhibit were outstanding.

The exhibits emphasized equipment for growing young stock, including a brooder house with litter on the floor, brooder stove, baby chickens and ample feed and water space for chicks. Another piece of equipment was a shelter from the rain. The shelter, which was at the side of the brooder house, showed how it could be used as a sun porch and later could be pulled out on the pasture while chicks are out on the range.

Other equipment displayed included both home made and commercial feeder and waterers of various sizes and types needed in brooder houses and on the range. One piece which was of particular interest was a barrel type waterer used on the range which provides an ample supply of water and at the same time saves time and labor.

Stressed Sanitation

Dr. A. J. Durant, chairman of the department of veterinary science of the University of Missouri, discussed at the morning session a program of disease and parasite control. He stressed the strict sanitation program and told how such chick diseases and parasites, such as round worms and pullorum, can best be controlled.

Professor H. L. Kempster, chairman of the poultry department of the University of Missouri, talked on turkey production in Missouri.

The afternoon program started with a panel discussion on profitable poultry managing. Mrs. William J. Lamm, Smithton, Mrs. George Cummings, Houstonia, Mrs. Earl Neef, Sedalia and J. U. Morris were leaders in the discussion. Mrs. Lamm, Mrs. Cummings and Mr. Neef have all done outstanding work in poultry production, both with chickens and turkeys.

Important Ideas

Important ideas brought out in the discussion were to buy the chicks in early March, clean the brooder house thoroughly, set up the brooder stove twenty-four hours before the chicks are put in the brooder house and regulate the heat to keep it uniform. All agreed that a wire floor is more satisfactory, as it is easier to keep clean. The importance of plenty of feeders and water space was brought out in the discussion, as well as the danger of overcrowding. There should be three chicks per square foot of floor space. At 10 weeks the broilers should be ready for market and the pullets should go out on the range, where good pasture, ample water and feed and shade are necessary for the pullets as well as the turkeys. When the pullets lay enough eggs to put in a hat they should be placed in the laying house, and should be in at least by the first of October.

A Motion Picture

One thing that was of particular interest was the sound motion picture, "Profitable Poultry Production in Missouri." This picture was taken on Missouri farms some in Pettis county, and shows good management and feeding practices, emphasizing sanitation in both laying and young flocks.

Profitable Return

Elmer Winner, extension poultryman, of University of Missouri pointed out that flock owners following the practice shown in this picture have a return of $2.50 for each $1.00 spent in feed.

Rolla Singleton, field manager of the Missouri Poultry Council, brought to the group suggestions from other states which can be used to improve poultry and profits in Missouri. On his trip through the east last fall he visited poultry plants and poultry farms and offered six suggestions: 1, save labor; 2, increase and develop volume in poultry enterprise; 3, improve sanitation and get rid of pullorum diseases; 4, adjust the poultry business to existing conditions; 5, improve the quality of poultry produced and 6th, market poultry and poultry products on basis of quality.

Public Address System

The public address system used for the program was loaned by the Missouri Pacific shops and operated by Fred Rose.

The committee responsible for the poultry show was composed of William Seelen, S. J. Timbrius, Tom Lettich, J. Harold Twiss, Ralph Thomas, Cline Cain, Clarence Moore and J. U. Morris.

Columnist Pays Tribute To Well Known Sedalia Friend

In a recent issue of a Springfield, Ill., newspaper a columnist, Admiral V. Y. Dallman, carried a tribute to Mrs. Susan Z. Lawrence, who recently died in that city. Mrs. Lawrence was a close lifelong friend of Mrs. C. E. Messerly, of Sedalia, and had often visited in the Messerly home here.

The closing paragraph reads:

"Rich, indeed, was Mrs. Lawrence's fund of information about the capitals of the world, nearly all of which she had visited in her travels. I used to like to hear her tell of her visit to the Court of St. James and of the nobility whom she met. As a raconteur she was second to none in interpretative charm and impersonations."

stands out in my memory. While in Paris on one occasion, she directed the making of a very elaborate millinery creation. The crown of the hat was covered with daisies in some of which were jewels and in one of which was a very valuable miniature watch. Mrs. Lawrence said that nothing was concealed from the customs officers when she returned to the States, but when they overlooked the value of the daisies in her hat it was not because she had failed to display them as required by law.

"But uppermost in the minds of some of the more mature residents of Springfield as they consider the passing of Mrs. Lawrence is the conviction that by far the most colorful period in Springfield's history was in the Gay Nineties and at the turn of the century, and that among the foremost to add to the charm, the hospitality and the charity of that day was Mrs. Susan Lawrence, whom many

BARRIER DESTROYED

The brain and spinal cord are the best protected tissues in the body; the brain by the skull, and the cord by the vertebrae. In addition to this, they are both protected by three layers of tissues called meninges. In normal conditions very few substances pass through these meninges. Dye, when injected into the blood, will not reach the brain or cord in normal conditions. The meninges prevent it. If the nerves in the arm are irritated, this causes a breaking down of the meningeal barrier and the dye will enter the cord at the point where the irritated nerves enter. If the nerves of the leg are irritated it will cause the dye to stain the lower end of the cord, showing that irritation of the nerves breaks down the barrier at the points where these nerves enter.

Inside of these meninges is spinal fluid to further protect the cord and brain. Extraction of the spinal fluid also causes a breaking down of the meningeal barrier and causes diseases that otherwise might not develop. (Speransky).

The germs causing meningitis must pass these barriers. It indicates to the chiropractor that there must have been irritation of the nerves in the neck or cranial area which destroyed this barrier. Subluxations could do this. I believe that our idea is the most logical reason why one gets meningitis and another does not. Maintaining your health with this scientific drugless method.

Discuss Big Day

Talk of the impending visit of President Truman and Winston Churchill next Tuesday (March 5) dominates this informal meeting at Fulton's Chamber of Commerce. Left to right are: Fred B. Montgomery, chairman of the chamber's information committee; Howard Blattner, a member of the traffic control committee; and Truman L. Ingles, general chairman of arrangements for "Churchill Day." Red Cross Corner

Attention, please, Red Cross Volunteers: In the course of the Red Cross Fund Campaign, it may be necessary to call upon some of our Volunteers to help with the solicitations. If so, they will be asked to serve in uniform. For this reason all Volunteers are asked to have their uniforms in readiness.

At the last meeting of the Nurse Aid Corps, held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, it was made known that the Red Cross and the Bothwell Hospital Board had come to an agreement whereby the Nurses Aides would, as of the first of March, go on the Reserve List, and serve at the hospital 50 hours a year. The Aides will actually work once a month in order to keep abreast of the work there, and will be in a position to go on duty immediately in an emergency.

Monday, March 4, marks the beginning of the refresher course in Red Cross First Aid, to be held in Warrensburg. This course, for instructors, will be attended by the Chairman, Dr. Kenneth Holdren, and the following Sedalia instructors: Mrs. John Murrell, Miss Della Jones, Miss Audrey Salzer, Mrs. Garnet Buckley and Michael Wolfel and Cecil Smith.

Mrs. Hugh Janes is continuing with her class in Home Nursing which she is conducting at Hubbard High School.

The Junior Red Cross, under the chairmanship of Miss Nettie Lamm, and pupils of the local schools have just completed 50 gift boxes to be sent to children overseas and are sending 200 St. Patrick's Day napkins to the Sedalia Army Air Field hospital.

STILL THE Greatest Mother OF THEM ALL!

Red Cross hospital workers talk to the men — laugh and play games with them — provide amusement and recreation facilities to shorten long, dreary days. The cheerful smile of an American girl helps banish loneliness and boredom... helps a man keep his chin up when things look pretty dark.
And on the home front, wherever fire, flood or other disaster strikes, the Red Cross is ready with relief for the suffering.
Yes, your Red Cross is literally mother to many millions... friend of the friendless... comrade in time of need. And its work must go on. Hundreds of thousands of our men are still overseas. They need the Red Cross, and they need it now.
It is your Red Cross. The gift you give is its only income. Without you, the Red Cross can not carry on. Don't put off giving to the Red Cross. Give today!

The Truth About Home Building in 1946

IT'S TIME VETERANS and ALL CITIZENS WERE TOLD the TRUTH ABOUT THE HOME BUILDING SITUATION.

The main bottleneck to home construction is production of materials and equipment.

No legislation, Presidential announcement, government control plan, or system can produce a single additional home until production of materials is speeded up.

Lumber Dealers and the Building Industry are eager to build homes for veterans and all citizens who need them. The reason few homes are being built is because materials are not being produced.

WHY?

1. Governed by OPA's war-time pricing formulas, it is still more profitable for lumber mills to make items for export—and the items formerly required for war use, than it is to make lumber usable in Home Construction.
2. OPA's wartime pricing formulas are still keeping thousands of small mills out of production.
3. OPA's enforcement policies have allowed the creation of a large black market in lumber which is moving outside of regular channels of trade.
4. OPA's slowness in adjusting mill ceiling prices on hardwood flooring, Siding, millwork and plywood has contributed to the difficulties mills are having in securing necessary manpower.

With 400 brick and tile plants closed, it took 6 months for OPA to adjust prices. Now an additional 125 plants have opened and production is up 35%.

Clay sewer pipe, cast iron soil pipe and Gypsum board manufacturers have experienced a similar OPA delay in the granting of price adjustments to make increased production possible.

No amount of juggling with an insufficient supply will produce a single home more than can be built with material available.

The OPA can hardly hold present price ceilings when it has no control over volume of employment, labor wage rates, cashing of government bonds and installment or credit expansion — BUT THE OPA CAN ACT AS A BLOCK TO RECONVERSION BY CLINGING TO UNREALISTIC WAR-TIME PRICE CEILINGS.

Unblock the production of materials caused by unrealistic war-time price controls and the building industry will build enough homes for veterans and all Americans!

Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry.

YOU'LL WANT to be on hand for the Caroline Ellis Tuesday morning commentary direct from Fulton, Missouri at her usual program time of 8:30 a.m. KMBC couldn't have sent a more logical representative for the Winston Churchill ceremonies. What Caroline can do to a news story such as this is well known by past examples. She'll make you feel just as though you were there sipping tea with Winnie herself. Other special broadcasts of the day include a step-by-step account of the Fulton parade from the porch of the Palace Hotel at 1 p.m., and an origination to CBS at 3:30 p.m. of the Truman-Churchill talks.

KANSAS CITIANS are taking their favorite sons "The Texas Rangers" back into their hearts at the Tower Theatre this week. Returning from the far corners of the earth after serving Uncle Sam in one role or another, the Rangers are readying themselves for a return to the national spotlight in network radio and motion pictures. Directly after their week's engagement at the Tower, they are leaving for New York where they will be featured over the coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

WE PROMISED you a word or two about Charley Pryor, KMBC's "Tune Chaser" who beats a washboard to pieces in no time flat. (You can catch "The Tune Chasers" any weekday morning at 7:30.) Charley was born on July 4, 1911 in Excelsior Springs. He went to school there and earned his first dollar milking cows. We don't know what all this cabbage-head stuff is—but Charley tells us a horse stepped on his head in his youth. He has written no little music for the vibs, but his carpenter shop at home, plus all the personal appearance demands upon his musical talents, keeps him slightly on the busy side. Next week, remember its Colorado Pete—and we have scheduled Ray Hudgens for the following. Send in your questions, care of KMBC, and we'll see what can be done about answering 'em.

SUCH MAIL response harkens back to the early days of the radio D-X'er! David Andrews in one day alone produced letters sent into "Rhymaline Time" (KMBC—weekdays, 7:45 a.m.) from Camden, New Jersey; Rhode Island; Bowling Green, Kentucky; San Francisco, California; Georgia; and Memphis, Tennessee. He offers the opinion that every state in the Union has responded to date.

ANSWER-BOX TO THE MAIL-BOX... Smokey and Penny are appearing over KLZ in Denver. How old do you have to be to get on the air? Well, you should be able to walk down to the studio under your own power. Seriously though, auditions are held from time to time by KMBC's program department—contact Rod Cupp. This is a repeat—Hiram Higgsby is emcee at a barn dance in Oklahoma City... Eddie Johnson has been off the air because of a siege in the hospital with a yanked appendix.

That appears to be 980 from here!

Price Increase On Steel Products

WASHINGTON, March 2—(P)—OPA Friday night announced price increases ranging from $2 to $12 a ton for all basic steel products.

The agency said that the new price schedule met terms of the government's Feb. 15 directive which authorized an average price hike of $5 a ton for total output of basic carbon and alloy steel products.

The higher prices, retroactive to Feb. 15 under provisions of the original directive, are being granted to offset a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour in the steel industry.

OPA said that the price adjustments meant an increase of 8.2 per cent in the average price of all steel. The new average price of all steel, both carbon and alloy, is $65.92 a ton, as compared with $60.92 previously.

OPA gave no indication of what effect the higher prices for basic steel would have on prices for consumer goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines.

It said that the degree of absorption of higher steel costs that would be required of producers and distributors of consumer goods, machinery and building materials, was being worked out and would be announced at a later date.

Women Have Been Waiting for

and here's our PLAN!

WE'VE been criticized, we know, for holding precious NYLONS...but we think this fair plan of distribution will vindicate us. It has been a perplexing problem. We want to avoid crowds, tiresome waiting, confusion and disappointments. We do want to take care of our charge and cash customers equitably. We have accumulated a quantity of pairs by saving small shipments trickling in each week, and we have begun distribution of these under the plan outlined below. If you're interested (and we suspect you are) and if you have not already registered, read our plan carefully.

Registration by MAIL ONLY by WOMEN ONLY!

Register by midnight, March 4th

Mail a letter or postcard with your name, address, telephone number, and size and whether you are a charge or cash customer. That is all we require. No color, length or gauge preference is possible in this distribution. Your letter or postcard post-mark must show mailing before midnight, Mon-day, March 4th.

One pair to a customer . . .

We haven't enough if everyone responds . . . but we'll fill orders in rotation according to postmark. It may take weeks to fill all requests but as new shipments arrive all orders will eventually be filled. A second pair will not be sold until all first orders are filled.

Do not phone

Registration will be made by mail only. No regis-trations will be taken over the telephone. Please register once only. In fairness to all customers all duplications will be eliminated. Women only may register.

Do not send any money

Do not send money with your registration as stockings are marked at several O.P.A. ceiling prices. We will notify you by card or telephone and tell you when you may pick up the stockings reserved for you.

The Widener Handicap Is Won By Armed

Was Conceded Only An Outside Chance With Concordian

By GAYLE TALBOT
MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—(P)—They say that Trainer Ben Jones "wins the big ones," and the gentleman from Missouri proved it again at Hialeah Park today when his Armed came through to beat the odds-on-favorite, Concordian, by four full lengths in the $50,000 added Widener handicap.

Armed Trounced By Concordian
When they went to the post in the big event of the Florida winter season, Armed, carrying 128 pounds, was conceded only an outside chance to match speed with the fleet Concordian, which had given him a severe trouncing in the McClellan Memorial only two weeks ago.

Trainer Jones had said for publication that his horse, owned by Calumet Farm, didn't have a ghost of a chance of beating Concordian, carrying the feather-weight of 109 pounds. Yet when they led the winner into the hibiscus-bordered square late today and handed out the winner's check of $45,700, it was "Plain Ben" and his horse who were present on all counts.

After an outsider named Skytracer had given Concordian a terrific race in the early running, Armed calmly took command at the far turn and appeared to win almost as he pleased. Jockey Joey Renick on Concordian took desperately to the whip when Armed went by him, but it was of no use.

The winner's time was 2:02.2, considerably off the Widener record of 2:01.4 held jointly by Mantagna and Columbian, the 1936 and '37 winners.

25,000 Are Entranced

So entranced was the crowd of 25,000 with Concordian's victory in the McClellan that he went to the post a 4-5 favorite over the seven other starters. As a result, Armed paid a handsome $6.40 to win, $2.70 to place and $2.30 to show. Concordian returned $2.50 to each $2 bet on him to place, and $2.20 for show. Mrs. L. B. Rabinowitz's Reply Paid which finished a length behind Concordian, paid $2.50 for third place.

Strung out behind the leaders was Devalve, fourth by a length and one-half, and then Omamox, Skytracer, Chancagain and Petrol Point, the latter Concordian's running mate.

Wait For Big Ones

When it was over they were saying around the clubhouse: "Isn't that Ben Jones cute? His horse Armed gets beaten to death two weeks ago by Concordian, and today they look like a couple of different horses. Was Ben waiting for the big one?"

Ben, himself, hotly denied the implication. He declared that Concordian simply did not run the race today that he did in the McClellan. He pointed out that he had said all the time that Armed was a great runner, second in his estimation only to Whirlaway, whom he also trained.

"I guess Armed is better than I admitted before," he said, "but he still is less horse than Whirlaway was."

Today's victory brought Armed's winnings for the year to $51,800 and his lifetime prize money to $203,400.

Joe Medwick Says He Has Some Offers

ST. LOUIS, March 2.—(P)—Joe Medwick, most valuable player in the National League in 1937 who was recently released unconditionally by the Boston Braves, disclosed today that he has three baseball offers under consideration.

One of the bids is from the Mexico City club of the Mexican National League, Medwick said. "It is most tempting," he declared "but I wouldn't want to leave this country to play ball unless I had to. The game has been very good to me and I'd feel like a heel if I jumped it."

Medwick said he had two major league offers, one from each circuit. It was learned here from another source that the American League team is the St. Louis Browns.

The former Cardinal star lives in suburban Sappington, Mo. He expects to make a decision on the offers this next week.

Holdall Scores At Oakland Park Track

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 2.—(P)—Holdall scored his second straight victory for the Leon Tikulski Stable before a crowd of more than 8,000 at Oakland Park today by defeating four other crack sprinters in the featured $1,500 Moody Hotel handicap.

Carrying top impost of 116 pounds, Holdall made the trip over a fast track in 1:12, two fifths of a second slower than when he defeated a similar field in the McLaughlin handicap on opening day. An odds on favorite, the winner paid $3.10 straight.

Form players enjoyed a successful day with six favorites and a second choice winning. The mutual handle of $340,138 was the largest of the meeting.

Walker And McMackin—They Are Back

"Bus" Walker, (right), and Elwood McMackin, shown just before they went to the State American Legion baseball tournament back in 1940. They were just "youngsters" then but a great battery, now they are grown men and are expected to be as good if not a better battery. They are both members of the newly formed Senior American Legion baseball team, sponsored by Pettis County Post No. 16.

McMackin, returned to Sedalia several weeks ago after seeing service in the southwest Pacific, where he played some "pumpkin" ball, while Walker returned recently from service in the army air corps, being stationed in Canada, and did considerable pitching for his airbase team. Both are looking toward a successful season at home this summer.

Merchants To Grid Players Have A Strong In Big Six To Semi-Pro Club Go On Scales

Plan A Schedule To Take Club To Iowa Nebraska And Kansas

Prospects for the strongest semi-pro club ever to represent Sedalia looms in the offing this year when the Sedalia Merchants again take the field. Manager Palmer Nichols will have an array of players with lots of experience to build a strong aggregation, he reports.

From last year's club there is "Lefty" Livengood at first, "Gabby" Ellsworth at second, Ray Morris, Gus Shirley and Clay Williams outfielders; Clyde Norman catcher, and "Lefty" Hal Green pitcher.

Former Merchant players who have returned from service are Jake Summers catcher, who did a lot of baseball playing while in service. Omar Simon another catcher, Tim Barnes infielder and Jim Taylor hard-hitting third baseman.

"Scooter" Richardson, shortstop, is expected to receive his discharge from the navy in time to play this season. Joe Waters and Bill Livengood, former Legion players are expected to make a bid for outfield positions. Jimmy Cooney, Legion lefthander will try out for the club as will Jack Coffelt, a former Merchant pitcher. Bus Christian, Merchant ace pitcher for several seasons will again try for a pitching berth as will "Lefty" Green, sensational lefthander for the past two seasons. Several others have indicated they will try for the team when practice starts.

Games are being arranged with prospects in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska this season.

Two New Motion Pictures For C. C.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 2.—(P)—Two new motion pictures produced by the Missouri Conservation Commission are now available to sportsmen's organizations, civic clubs, schools and other groups for showings in 16 millimeter projectors.

One of the new films, "Trout Fishing at Bennett Springs," is in sound and natural color and is especially adapted for sportsmen's club programs. The picture, requiring 12 minutes to run, features Joe Weber, expert trout fisherman of St. Louis. A running narrative describes the tackle and techniques used by Weber in catching rainbow trout at Bennett Springs State Park.

The other film, "Bird Portraits," is a silent movie in natural color. It is a collection of unusual bird studies on motion picture film by Charles W. Schwartz, artist-biologist who recently left the State Conservation Commission staff to take a job with the game department of the Hawaiian territorial government. The bird film takes about 15 minutes to show, according to the Commission announcement.

These and other films available through the film loan service of the Conservation Commission may be obtained without charge, except mailing costs, by writing to the Commission's information division at Jefferson City. For showings outside Missouri, a rental fee is charged.

(By D. Kelly Scruton)

SEDALIA is getting off on the right foot at last. The Recreation Development Group which was recently organized and which is headed by Dr. Lawrence Geiger, as chairman is taking hold of a situation in Sedalia that should have been taken hold of several years ago. The group is not one to recommend a great big bond issue for recreational centers, nor is it a group which desires to dictate to the community, but is one which will advise, plan and make suggestions.

It was started with a small nucleus, and with each meeting a representative of another civic organization was invited to attend. The third meeting resulted in Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Business and Professional Women's civic clubs representatives of the two American Legion Posts, of the two Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts, the War Dads and the two War Mothers Chapters, the Shop Crafts of the Missouri Pacific all being represented.

It was explained at the big meeting the purpose of the organization and representatives accepted the plans as presented. They are all in accord with the fact Sedalia should be the recreational center of the State of Missouri, and especially are certain that Sedalia should have some type of recreation for all, both young and old.

During the course of the meeting various plans were discussed and how they could be presented and how they could be carried out, with the result, the group has invited a representative of the National Recreational Association to be present at their next meeting.

THE group isn't going wrong here, because this Association has made a study of recreation for towns, cities, and counties, and they know just what should and should not be done. The Representative, Mr. Arthur Todd, will come here Friday, March 8, and speak to the group and give them an outline on what should be done toward sponsoring such a project.

I have had several letters myself from the Association during the Golden Gloves days back in 1940, 41 and 42, and have found their advice well worthwhile.

I am sure all of Sedalia will get behind this newly formed group and see that their efforts are a success.

ANOTHER thing Sedalia should start doing is getting something done in regards to a proposed, City Hall or Municipal Building, one which will house an auditorium which could be used for conventions and a gymnasium. Also something for a real baseball-football stadium, swimming pool, tennis courts, and numerous small baseball and recreational fields at various sections of the city.

I read with interest the past week where Marshall has applied to the government for a loan of $19,000 to pay for a Community Building with a gymnasium-auditorium, offices for police and fire stations which will total $630,000.

We know the school board will take care of the school system plans in Sedalia, and their plans call for gymnasium, and other recreational facilities which go along with schools, but Sedalia must make it its own plans for recreation for those who are not of school age, those who have already been to school and can't take advantage of the school board project.

President Hamey To Visit Training Camps

COLUMBUS, O., March 2.—(P)—Preparing for a visit to the spring training camps, President H. Roy Hamey today predicted 1946 would be one of the greatest seasons in the American Association's 45-year history.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that, all in all, the American Association, along with the other minor leagues, will enjoy a banner year both in fan attendance and in a superior brand of baseball throughout the field of competition."

Hamey will go to Florida first to take a look at Indianapolis in Deland, Kansas City at Lake Wales, Louisville at Fort Myers and St. Paul at Sanford. Then he'll move on west to visit Minneapolis at Bay St. Louis, Miss.; Columbus at Biloxi, Miss.; Milwaukee at Mineral Wells, Tex., and Toledo at San Antonio, Tex.

He also announced these umpire assignments to spring training sites:

Pat Padden with Louisville; William McKinley with Kansas City; Forrest Peters with Indianapolis; Arthur Meier with St. Paul; Ed Hurley with Columbus; Robert Austin with Toledo and John Mullen with Milwaukee.

Hobbs Adams May Coach Kansas State

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—(P)—The Kansas City Star, quoting an "unofficial but reliable source," tonight said head football coach Hobbs Adams is slated to become acting director of athletics at Kansas State college when Athletic Director M. F. (Mike) Ahearn is retired in July.

Asked for a statement here tonight, Ahearn said: "I have had no information that Hobbs Adams has been named acting director of athletics at Kansas State."

Williams-Wakefield Kidding On Betting

TAMPA, Fla., March 2.—(P)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, and Dick Wakefield, Detroit Tiger home run basher, said today they were "only kidding" regarding reports they had made bets on which one would have the better season in 1946.

Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, here on a tour of Florida spring training camps asserted "I can only repeat that gambling in baseball is not tolerated" when asked to comment on reports that:

Williams had wagered $1,000 even money that he would out-hit Wakefield and had met another $1,000 to Wakefield's $800 that Wakefield could not match Williams' 1941 performance of 37 home runs.

"I was only fooling," Williams said. "I'm not betting with Wakefield or anybody else."

"What wagers?" Wakefield asked. "There were some kidding bets, but thousands like them are being made in the big leagues right now. Everybody is always betting everybody else, but did you ever hear of them paying off the bets? They're just figures of speech. They never mean anything. They're not even remembered two days later."

In his new position, Beets will direct the acquisition and development of new wildlife areas planned under post-war programs of the Commission.

Charles Callison, acting chief of the information division, will remain with the division as assistant chief.

Iowa State Wins The Big Six Indoor Track

By SKIPPER PATRICK

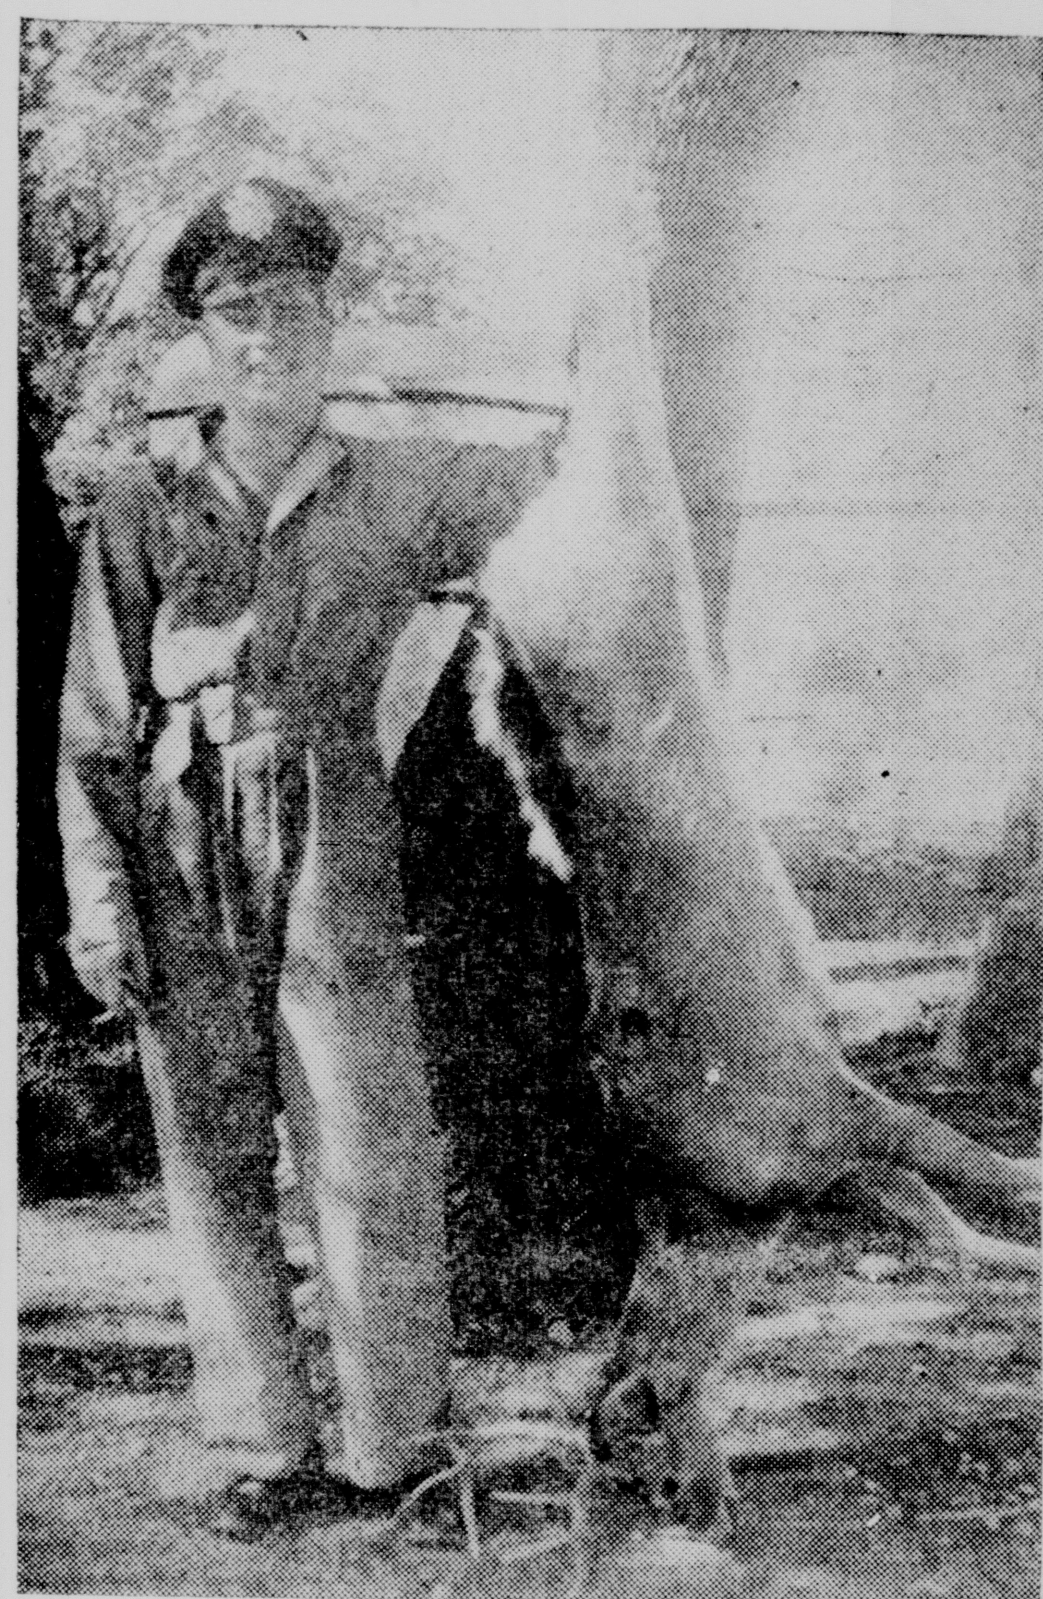

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—(P)—Scoring in all but two events and breaking two records, Iowa State's Cyclones piled up 44 points to win their third straight Big Six conference indoor track and field championship here tonight. Oklahoma placed second with 29 points.

A new record crowd of 8,000 fans watched Coach George Brettnall's windy Cyclone harriers score doubles in four events, two of them "little slams," and get shut out in only the shot put and pole vault.

Nebraska, one of the pre-meet favorites to cause Iowa State the most trouble, finished a weak third, 23½. Missouri was fourth with 19½ points, Kansas fifth, 12½, and Kansas State last with 3½.

Speedy Norm Pederson of Iowa State established a new meet broad jump record of 24 feet 1½ inch, and Iowa Stater Dwayne Feeken upped the high jump mark to 6 feet 4 inches.

St. Petersburg Open Lead To Ben Hogan

Has Two-Stroke Edge At Halfway Mark. Three Others In Tie

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 2.—(P)—Little Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., bucked a strong wind and shot a 67 today to give him a two-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $10,000 St. Petersburg open golf tournament.

The four-under-par round put his total at 131. In second place with 133 are Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Hollywood, Fla., who had a 65; Lloyd Mangrum, Los Angeles, who carded 69 and Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville who racked up 66.

Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., defending champion and big pre-tournament favorite, stands next with 134. The slammer carded 66.

Following him is amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo with 135. One stroke back is Al Beselink, amateur from Merchantville, N. J., who held second place at the end of the initial round.

Hogan, who lost the Pensacola open to Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles, in a playoff last Monday, played a cautious round. He missed birdies by one inch on the 362-yard first hole and the 376-yard third, and canned a seven-footer for a birdie on No. 4. Hogan collected three more birdies, carding 34-33.

Slender Lloyd Mangrum, who went into a first place tie with Hogan yesterday when he shot 64, faltered a bit today with a 69. He took 34 going out and came back in 35 in contrast with his brilliant 30 for the final nine in the first round.

Young Kirkwood moved in as a threat when he fired a six-under-par 65, taking a 31 on the back nine.

Twenty-two-year-old Al Beselink, a bus boy at a St. Petersburg hotel, slipped after his neat opening round of 66, and took a 70.

Long hitting Sneed gave the gallery its biggest thrill on the 571-yard seventh hole. He laced out a tremendous drive which was boosted along by tailwinds and needed only a No. 2 iron to spank the ball to the green. He was down in two for a birdie four.

Lord Byron Nelson of Toledo apparently had blown his chances of getting into a heavy winnings. He said he found the Sunset course tricky and didn't like the way he was hitting his shots. The big money winner of the pro claim carded a two-under 69 for 137.

The heavy field was cut to the top of 60 pros and five amateurs for tomorrow's 36-hole windup.

Canina The Winner At Santa Anita Park

ARCADIA, Calif., March 2.—(P)—Canina, five year old bay mare owned by Aaron Hirschberg of San Francisco, scored by a neck in a thrilling stretch duel with C. H. Pinion's Happy Issue to win the $500,000 mile and one sixteenth Santa Margarita handicap today at Santa Anita Park.

Louis B. Mayer's Be Faithful, one of three horses entered by the movie mogul, ran third with Whirlabout, the general choice, fourth.

The winning time was 1:43 2/5. Canina paid $6.80 $5.20 and $2.50, Happy Issue, $11.40 and $3.40 and Be Faithful $2.10.

Estep And Zarharias Rematched

Sailor Blasse To Meet Larry Tillman In Semi-Windup

WRESTLING MATCHES
Main Event
Babe Zaharias vs. Marshall Estep
Columbus, Ohio vs. Sturgeon, Mo.
2 falls out of 3, 90-minute time limit.
Semi-Windup
Larry Tillman vs. Sailor Blasse
Muskegoe, Okla. vs. St. Louis, Mo.
2 falls out of 3, 45-minute time limit.
Special Event
Ken Fenelon vs. Jack O'Neill
Dubuque, Iowa vs. Chicago, Ill.
1 fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Time: Tuesday, 8:30 p. m.
Place: State Guard Armory.
Referee: Jimmy Parker.

Marshall Estep and Babe Zaharias are meeting again. Their match last week ended in a protest on the part of Estep who claimed he won after he, Estep, had kicked Parker out of the ring onto the concrete floor. Parker gave the match to Zaharias. Fans at the ringside registered their protest to the promoters and it was then decided to arrange the re-match.

Certainly neither wrestler can expect much from the referee after the roughing up he took during the main event. Parker after the match said, "if you don't think it was on the up and up when I got kicked and struck my head on the floor, feel this egg." He referred to a bump he had on the back of his head—it was there.

Tarry Tillman, the "bouncing ball" from Oklahoma, is meeting Sailor Blasse from St. Louis. This match is expected to be a whirl wind affair. Blasse displayed his ability in handling these "rough guys" by beating Brother Jonathan last week, so Mr. Tillman can expect to meet his match against the boy from St. Louis.

The special event will match Ken Fenelon of Dubuque, Iowa against Jack O'Neill of Chicago. O'Neill, a real wrestling Irishman from the windy city is considered very good in the profession and this match should be a real entertaining affair.

Jimmy Parker will officiate as the third man in the ring, over all matches.

Smithton Hornets Start Practice Soon

The Smithton Hornets mean business this season. They will start practice on the Smithton diamond Sunday, March 10, Manager Paul Selken has announced. All players are requested to be on hand that day for the limbering up campaign. Players desiring to tryout are urged to contact him this week.

During the past several days much work has been done on the Smithton ball park. Improvements have been made which will make playing conditions better than it has been in years. The grandstand has been recovered with protective wire and repairs necessary have been made.

Arrangements for a grounds keeper have been made something the park hasn't had in several seasons.

"Oldest Sandlotter" On Advisory Committee

WICHITA, Kas., March 2.—(P)—Big league scouts on the National Baseball Congress' All-American Board will have the advice of the nation's oldest sandlot player in, picking the 1946 "All" team of semi-pros, President Ray Dumont said today.

The aged-on-the-sandlots advisor will be selected from the NBC's nationwide listing of non-professional players based on registration March 30 in some 10,000 sporting goods stores.

This No. 1 oldest—who must participate in a minimum of 12 games during 1946 play—will be given an all-expense trip to the National Semi-Pro Tournament at Wichita, August 16-28, and will be designated as advisor to the All-American Board.

Dumont said NBC also will list all active sandlot players, 50 or older, in an old timers' honor roll in its 1937 yearbook.

Campaign To Solicit Jobs For Veterans

1,500 More Openings Are Needed In Sedalia

Virtually every employer in Sedalia will be solicited for job openings to be filled by returning veterans, former war plant workers and others, C. M. Farris, manager of the United States Employment Service, said today in announcing local activities paralleling a state and national campaign to promote listing of more jobs with the U. S. E. S.

Farris said that while the national objective is for job openings for 6,200,000 returning service men and women and other workers, the immediate need in Sedalia is for 1,500 more job openings.

"There is a widening gap between the number of returning veterans and the jobs listed in public employment office that veterans can accept," Farris said. "This is also true of ex-war workers and others who are in the labor market."

400 Placed on Jobs
Up to the present time approximately 400 returned veterans have been placed in jobs, but at the same time there are approximately 1,300 applications on file with the local U. S. E. S. office here from veterans who have not found acceptable jobs, Farris said. He asserted there is a total of 2,015 applications from all job seekers on file in his office. Furthermore, increasing numbers of veterans will be back during the peak of demobilization between now and July 1, adding greatly to the number of jobs which must be found.

"Most veterans who are out of jobs now have good qualifications for a wide variety of occupations," Farris explained. "If they did not have work experience before entering the service, many gained experience and skills which fit them for a variety of jobs in civilian industry. The soldiers and sailors who will be discharged between now and July 1 are also qualified for good jobs and will need employment. At a matter of fact, veterans represent, in many cases, the 'cream' of the labor market."

Not Enough Jobs
"Since we do not have enough job openings which match the experience, training and abilities of these applicants, we are going to make every effort to find them," Farris stressed that the need is for a wide range of jobs, good jobs in a variety of occupations, listed with the U. S. E. S. in every case so that qualified veterans and other job applicants can be referred to specific employers for the specific kind of jobs they are qualified to perform.

"The employer will benefit by listing all his jobs with the U. S. E. S., since he will have a greater chance of hiring the workers he wants than through other means," Farris advised. "The employer who places orders for workers with the local U. S. E. S. has a big advantage today—the widest choice of available workers, veterans or others, since most of them are registered."

Jobs Not Always Listed
Farris said that in line with national policy, local U. S. E. S. offices will continue to refer workers to jobs on the basis of qualifications, giving the veteran preference whenever the veteran is qualified or when the employer specifies a veteran.

"Since the jobs they will accept are not always listed," Farris said, "returned veterans too often have to walk the streets looking for jobs, and then in many cases they do not find the jobs that are best suited to their qualifications. This can be avoided in a great many cases if the jobs are listed with the U. S. E. S."
"We are doing everything possible to make the local U. S. E. S. office a central community job clearing house, where all employers and all workers, including veterans, can get the best employment results."

Alleging general indignities Mrs. Lulu Belle Hanna sued for divorce from Zade Hanna in a petition filed Friday in the Pettis county circuit court. The couple was married on September 23, 1943.
The plaintiff, who is represented by Montgomery, Martin and Salveter, asks for restoration of her maiden name, Lulu Belle Eckard; for alimony pendente lite, permanent alimony, reasonable attorney's fees and costs of the suit.

MC Recruiter To Be Here

A representative of the Marine Corps with temporary headquarters in Columbia, Mo., will be in Sedalia each Monday at the post-office between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. to interview young men between the ages of 17 and 26 who are interested in the Air Corps, as well as for general service. This policy is something quite new in the Marine recruiting program and the adoption of the special enlistment plan was devised to encourage men interested in the technical and mechanical side of aviation to sign up in the Corps "for duty in aviation units only."

Applicants after successfully passing the recruiting sergeant's examination, will be sent to St. Louis for final examination. If accepted in St. Louis the will then be transferred for recruit training before being assigned to duty with an aviation unit.
